You have planted the seed of happiness within us,
Given us roots and room to grow.
We are changing,
Growing,
Reaching for the sky.

COUGAR CLASSICS 1980

Volume 5
A Student Publication of Beaumont-Charlton-Pollard High School, Beaumont, Texas

A picture is worth a thousand words,
Or so I am often told.
But one to me is memories,
Relived in mind and soul.

As I rummaged through this book
Of age old memories,
The golden times that I once had Come alive in me.

And in my days of anguish,
And days of solitude,
I turn to this old memory book
And happiness exudes.

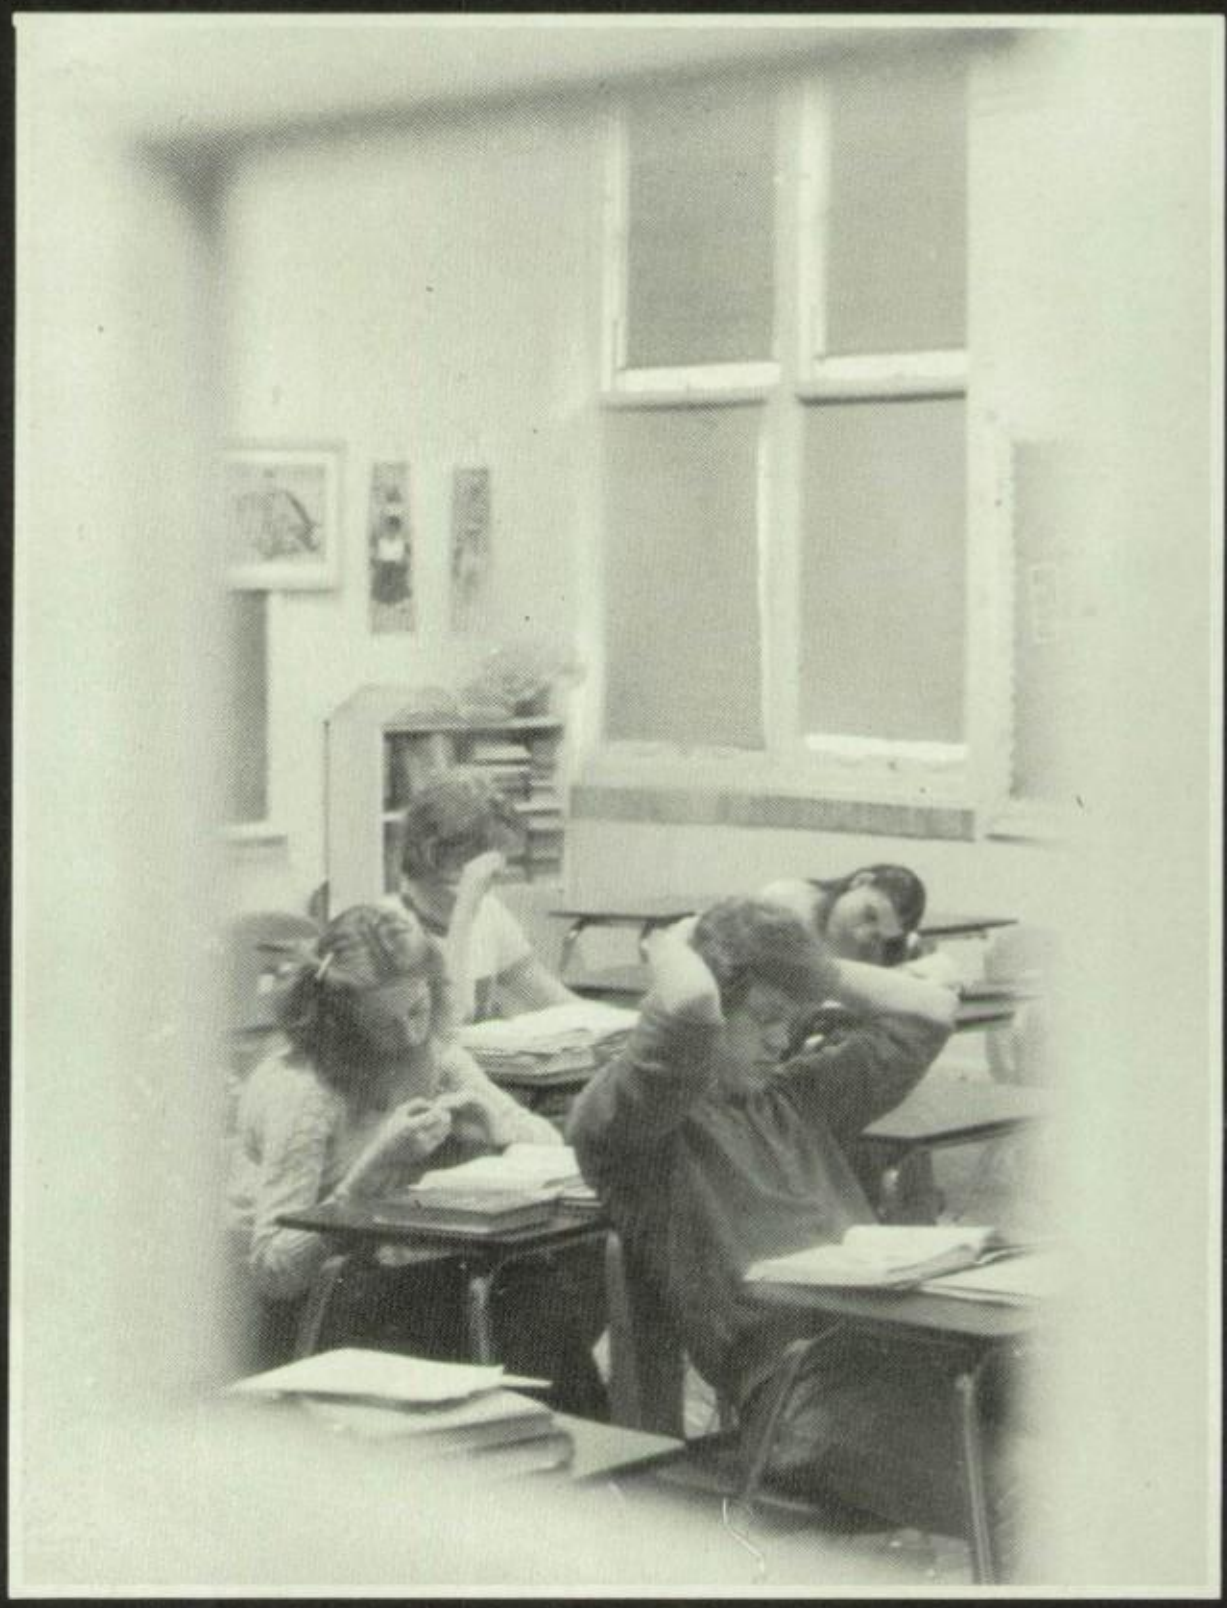
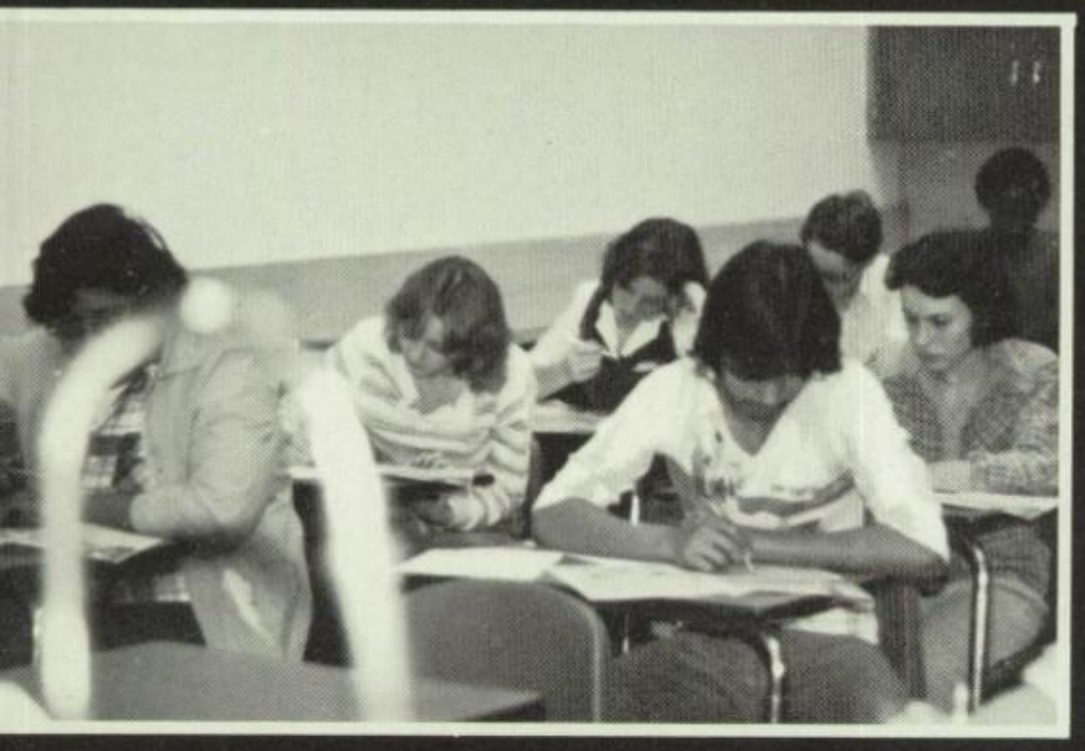
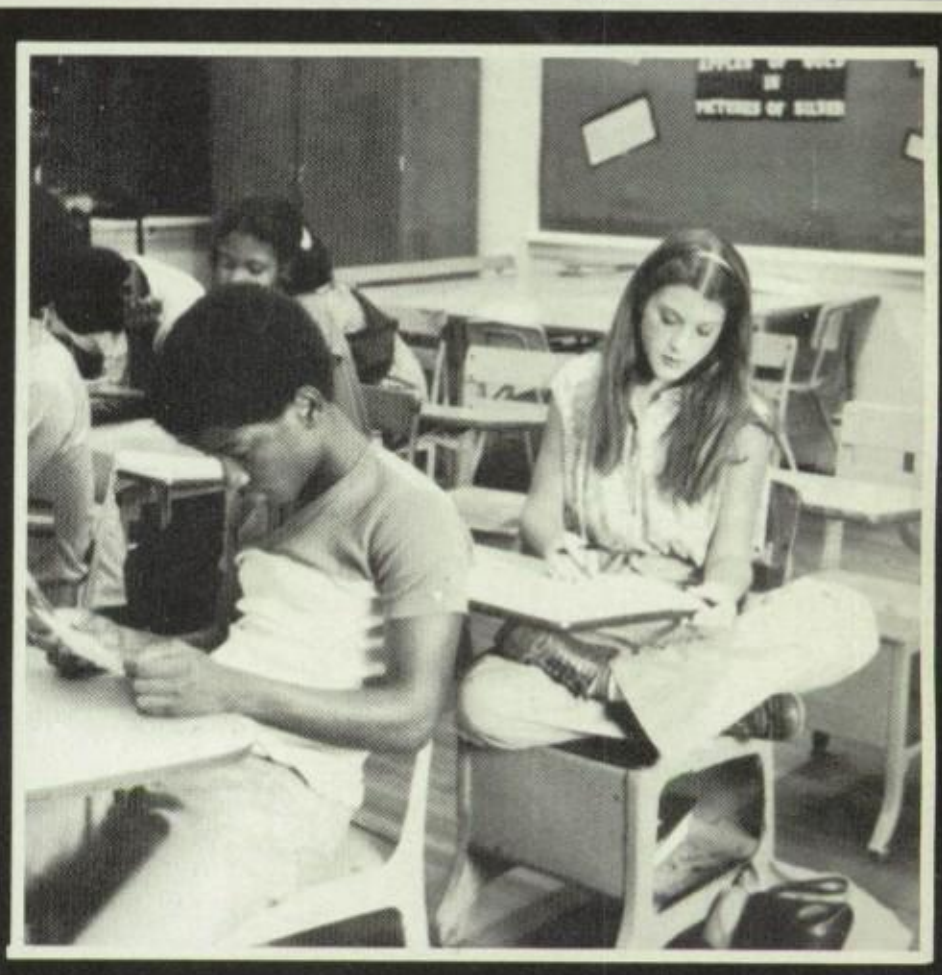
HAPPINESS IS . . .

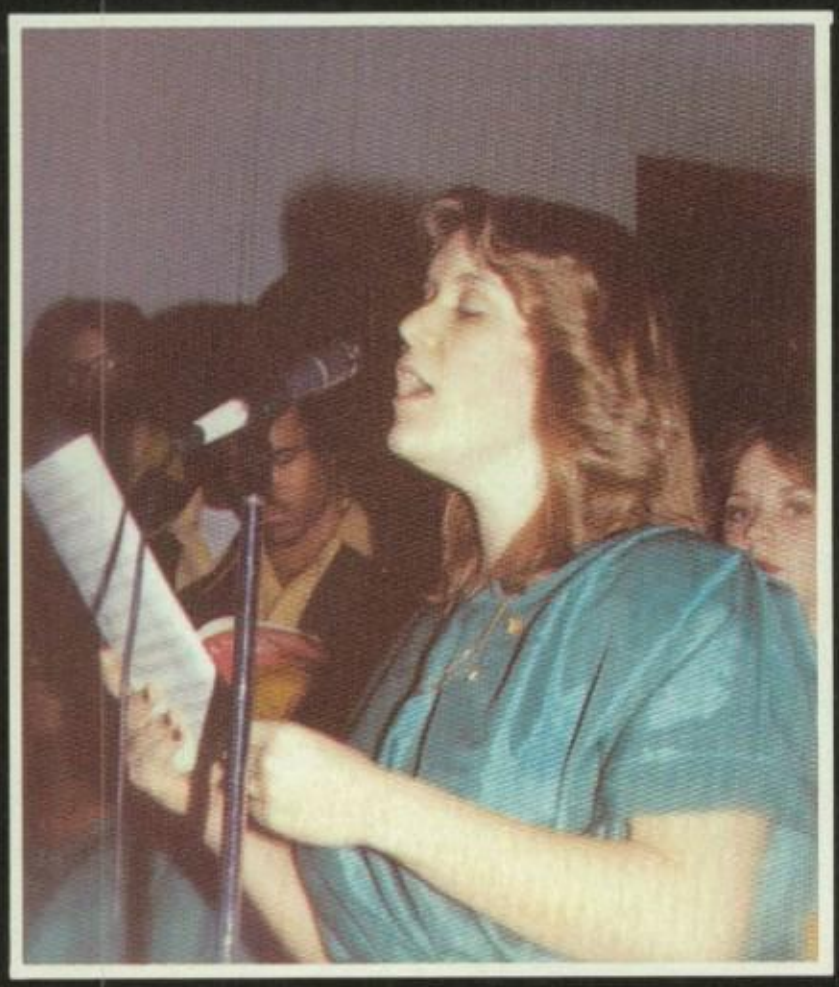


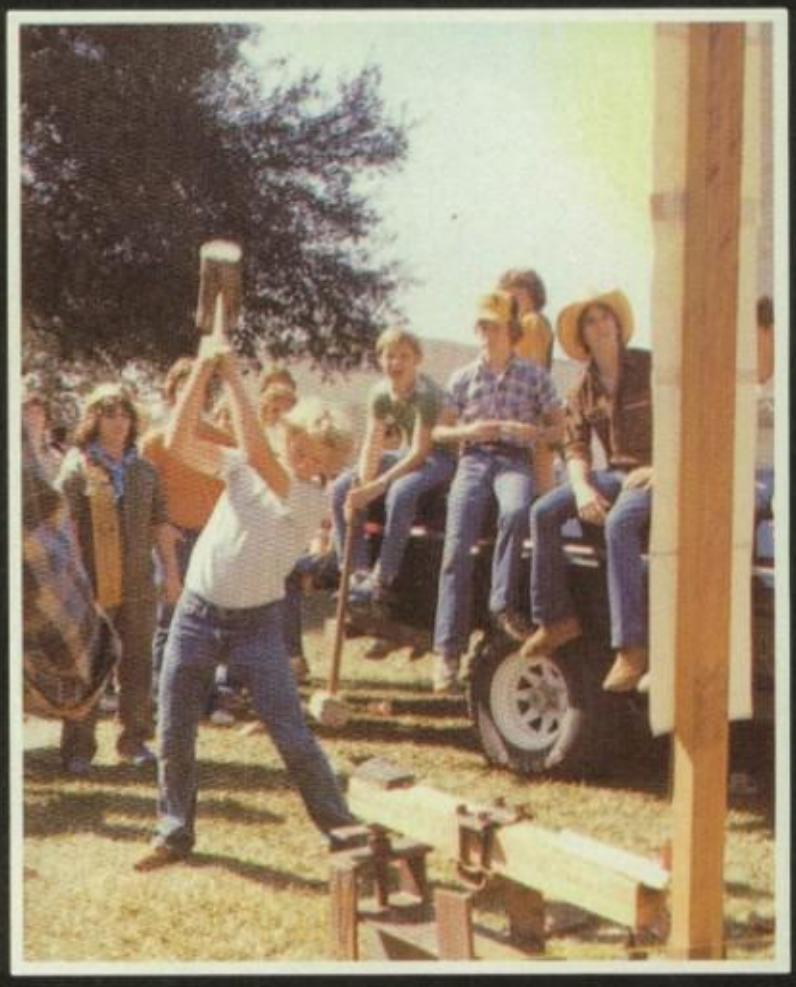
GROWING, CHANGING, LEARNING,



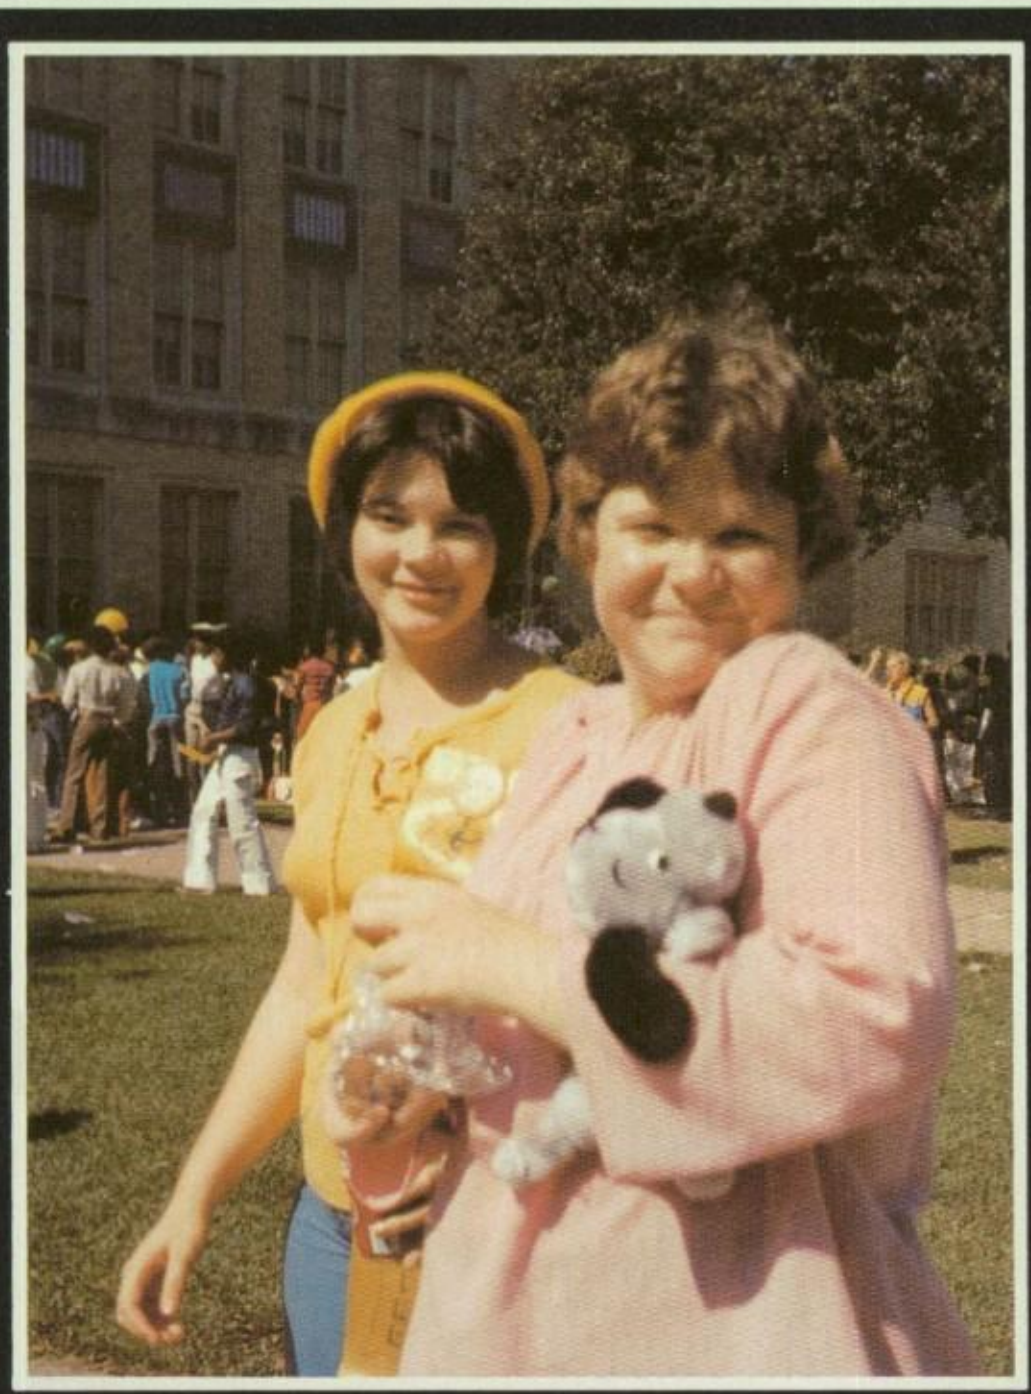


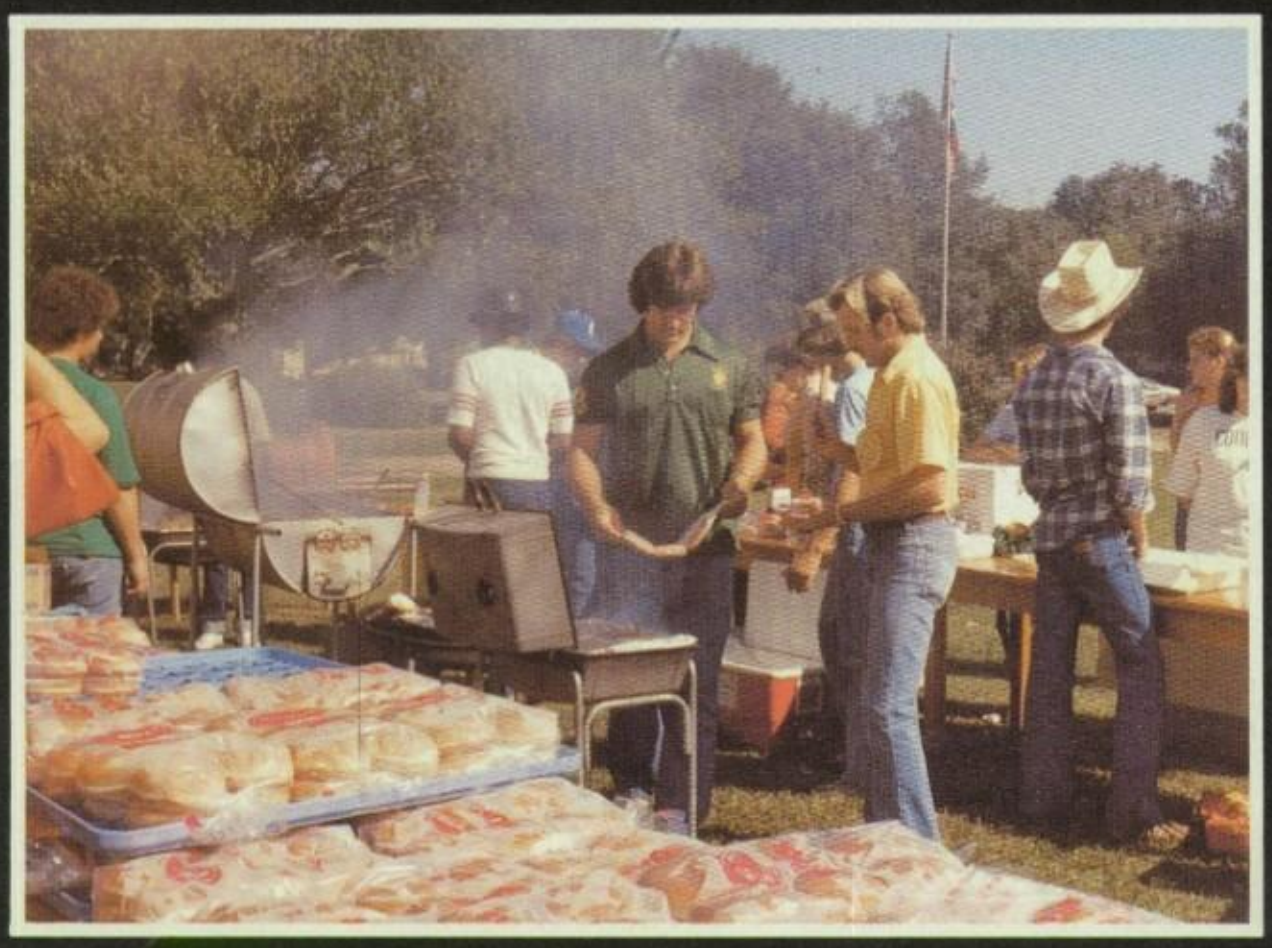
HAPPINESS IS . . .





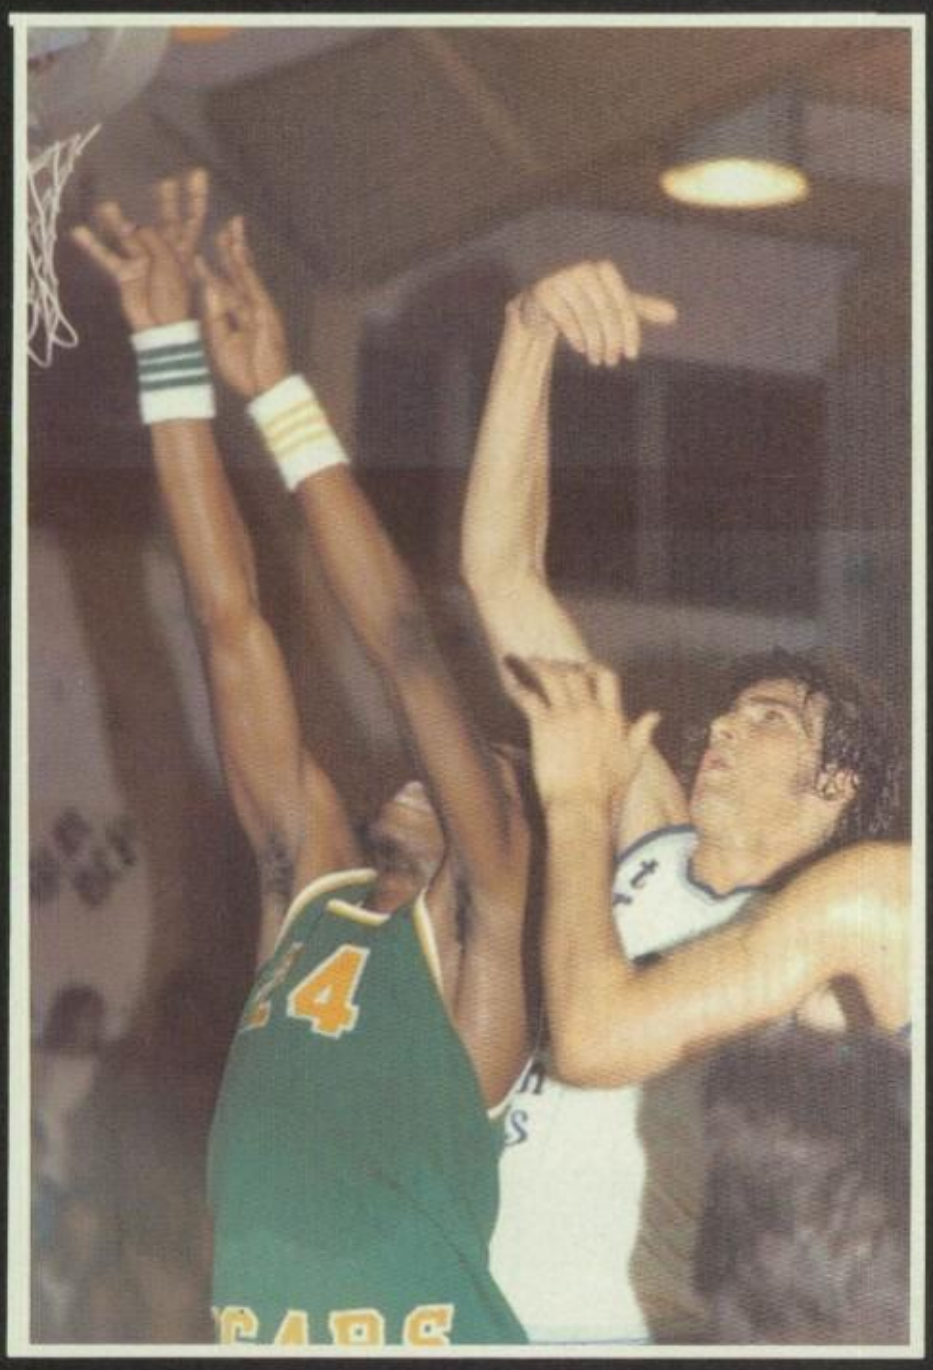
PARTICIPATING, BELONGING.





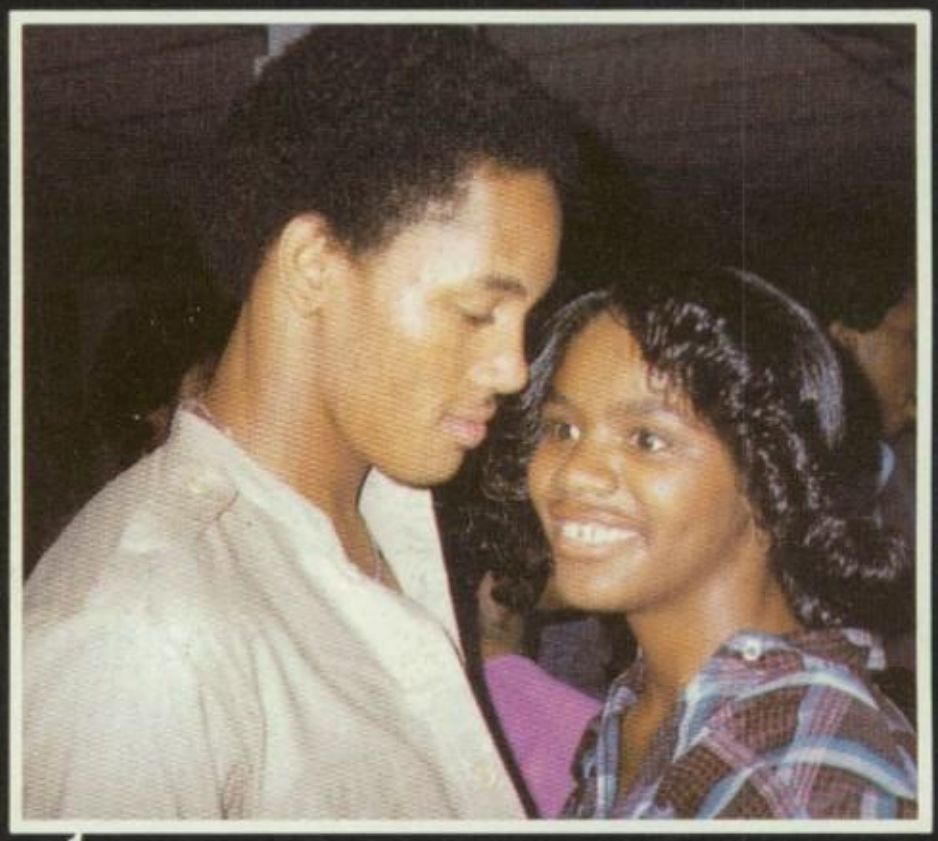
HAPPINESS IS . . .

COMPETING



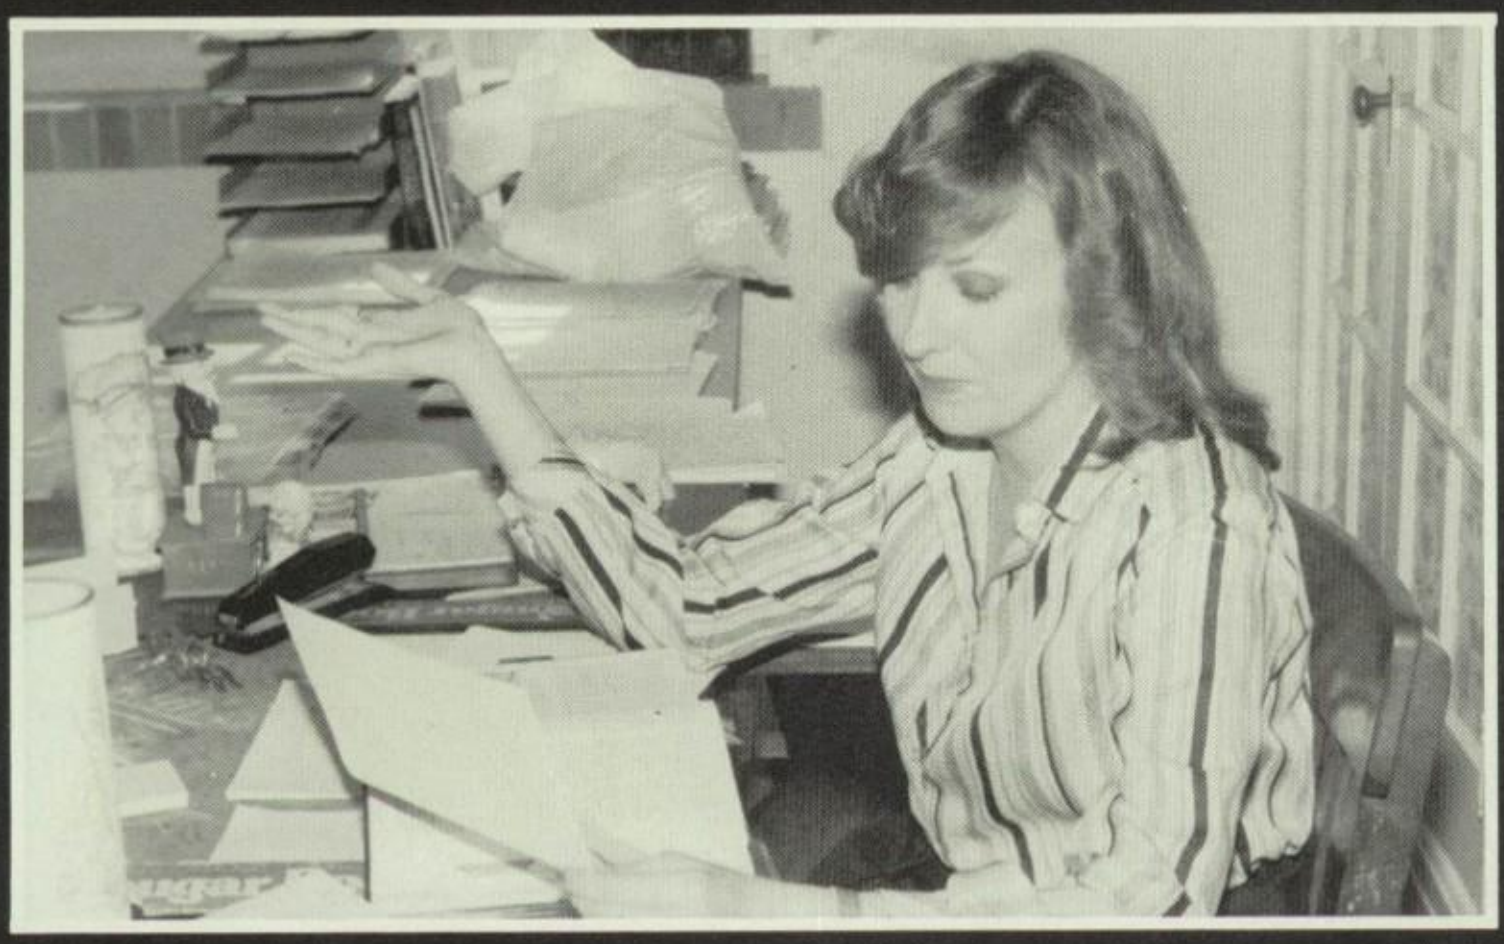
HAPPINESS IS . . .

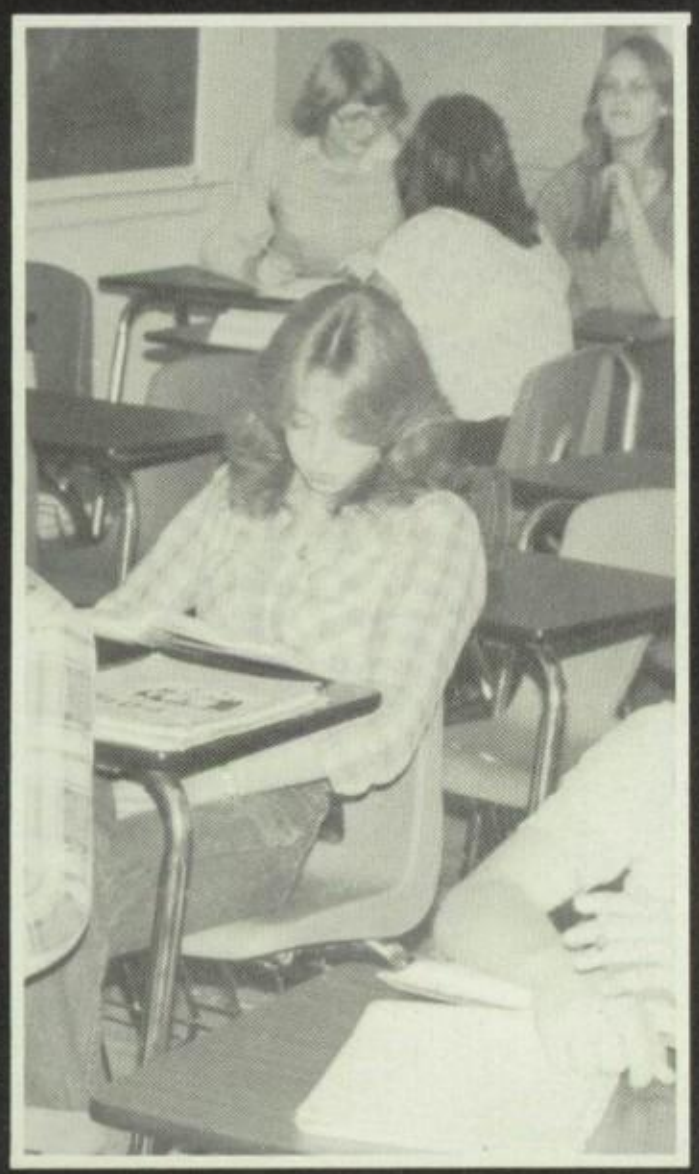
LAUGHING, LOVING, CREATING.



HAPPINESS IS . . .

TEACHING AND LEARNING.

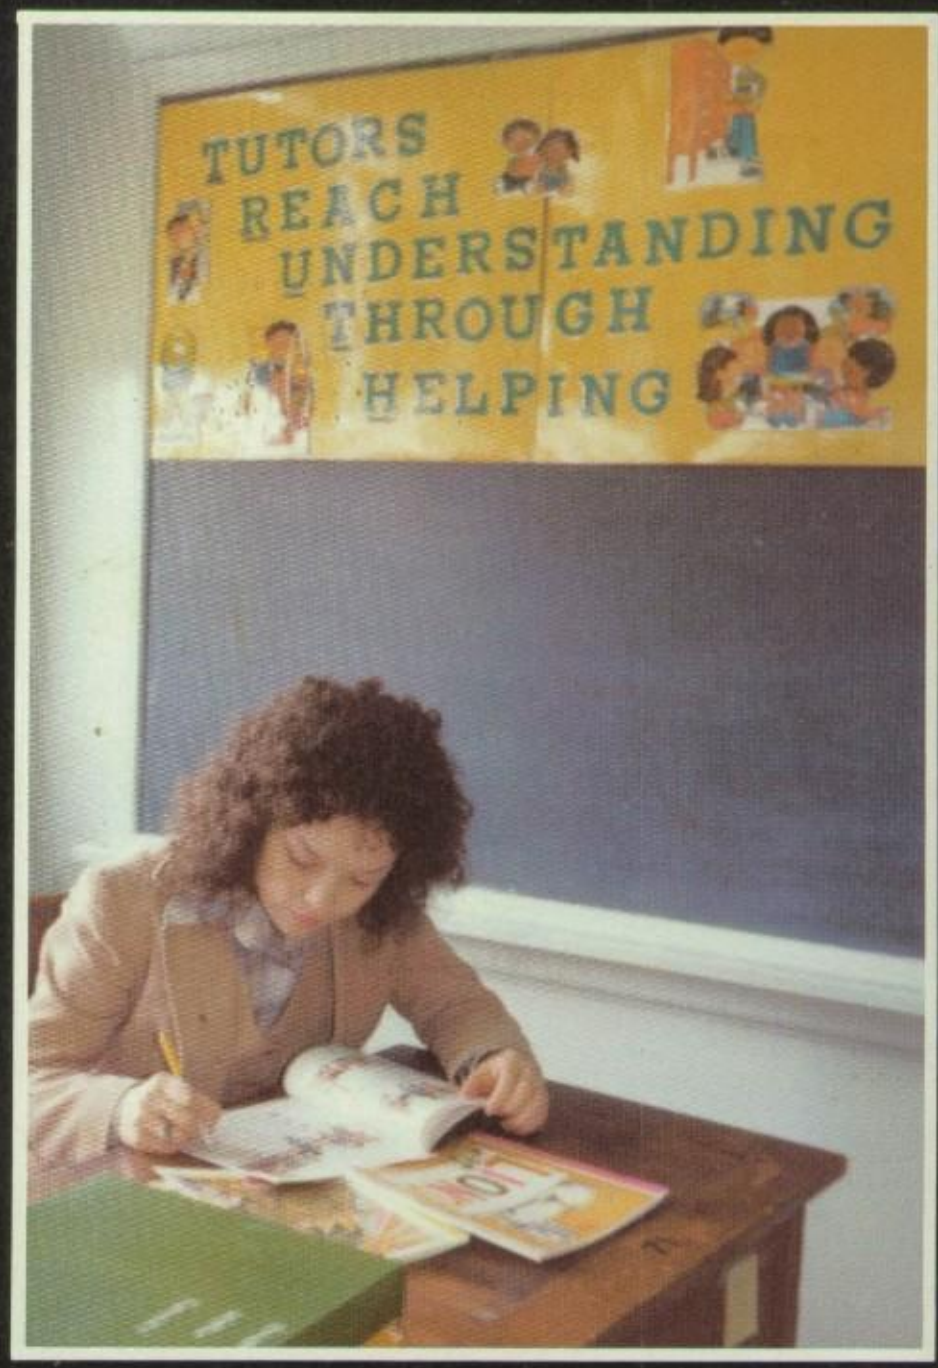




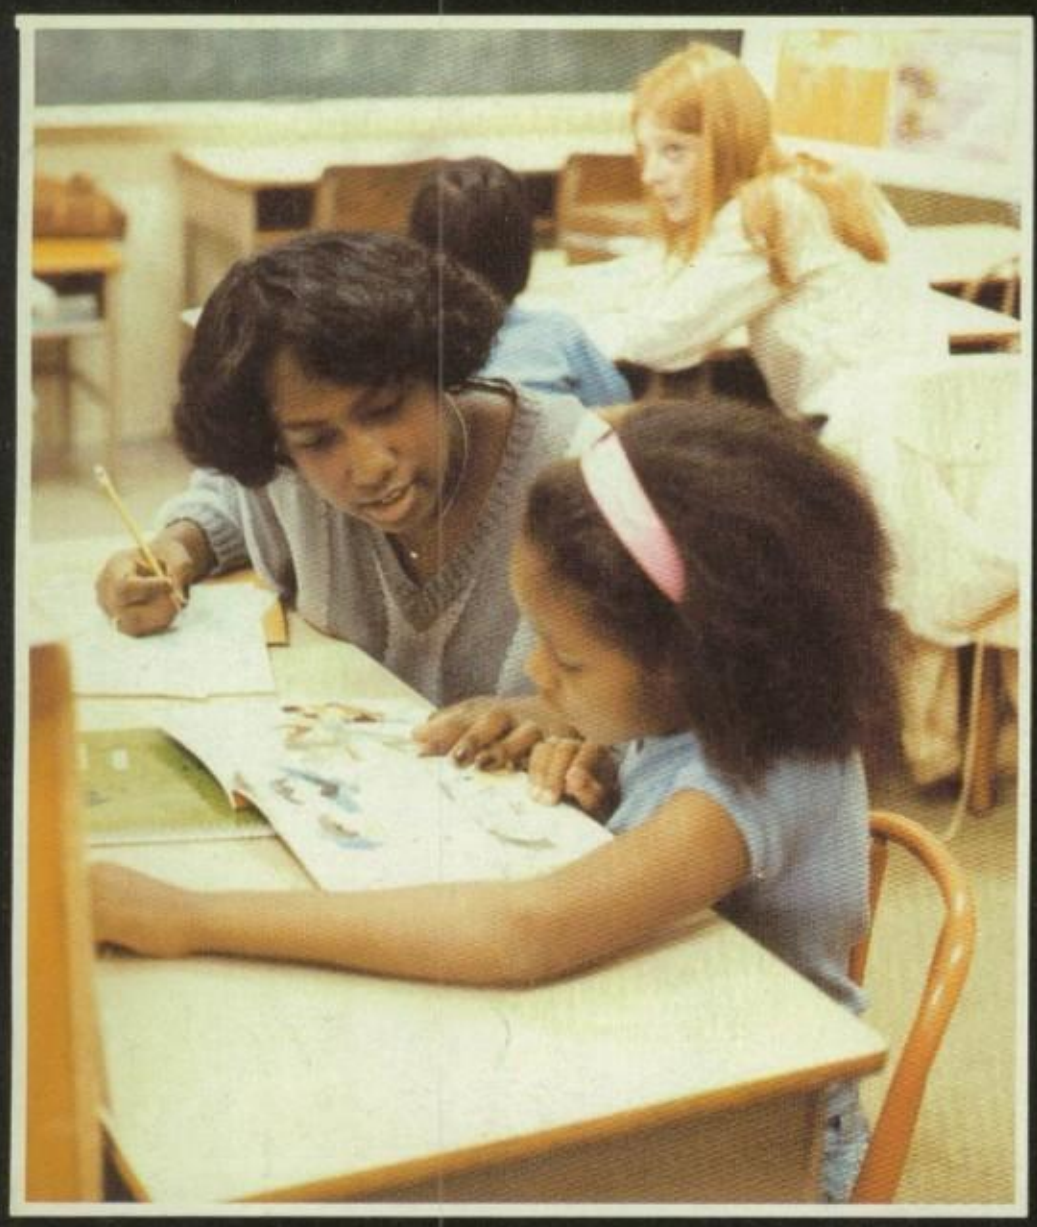
HAPPINESS IS HELPING OTHERS

The Reading Tutorial Program, under the leadership of Mrs. Verna Johnson, was initiated in 1979-80 for the purpose of helping children with reading difficulties to develop skills which would enable them to enjoy reading.

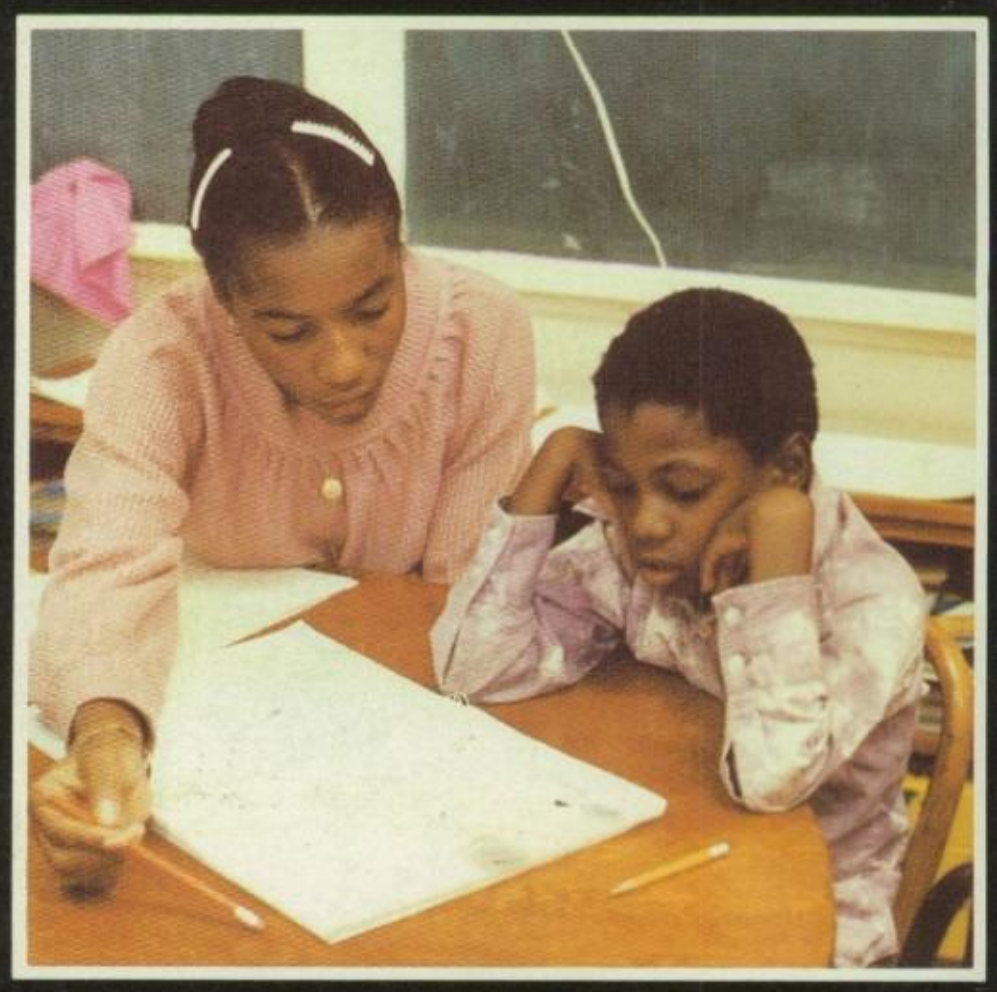
1. Mrs. Verna Johnson shows the tutors how to teach reading skills.



2. Lori Bledsoe and the other tutors mark the books to help keep records of the children's development.

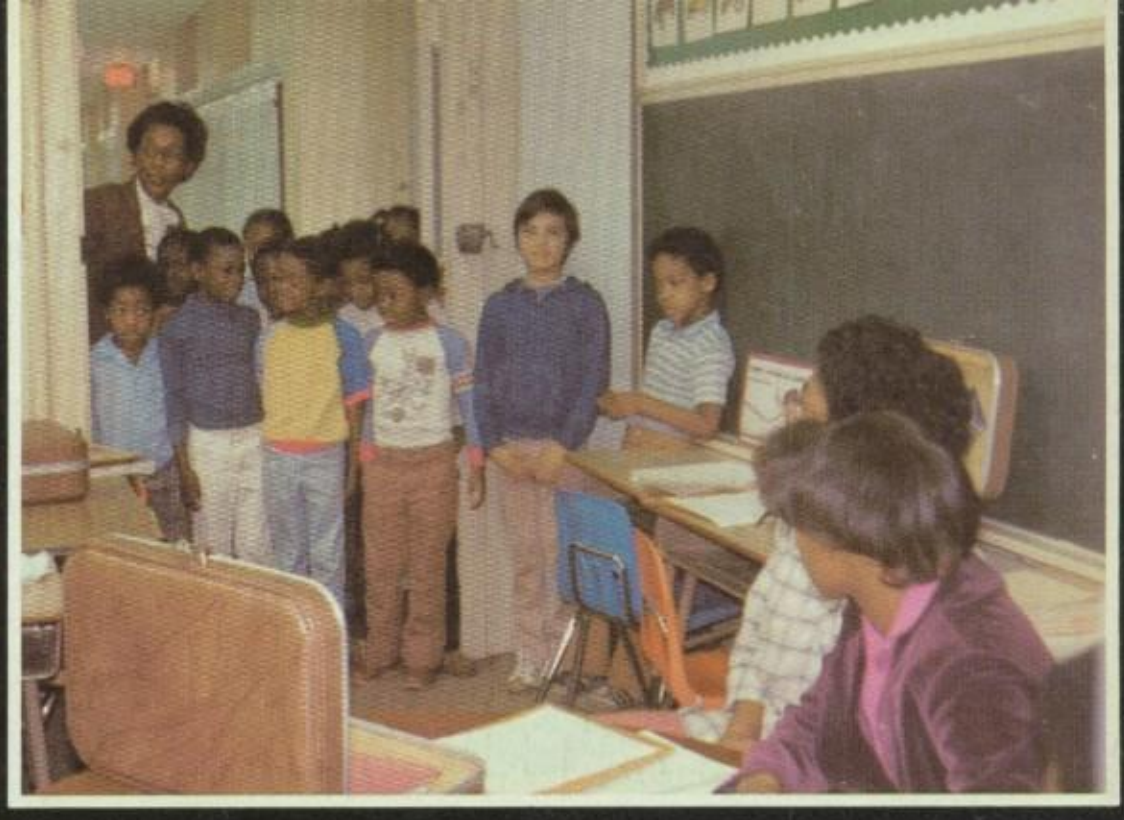


5. Ralphael Black (foreground) and Becky Neil (background) get down to work.



6. Tutor Delphine Corbin patiently listens to her student.

3. Tutors board the van to meet their kids for the first time and to put their training to work.



4. The long awaited moment arrives. Tutors and students see each other.

8. The discovery of a new reading skill brings forth an expression of joy for the student working with Donald Rawls.

7. When there were problems, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Lynas were always ready to lend a helping hand.

9. Linda Daigle and the other tutors prepared surprises for their students on special occasions.

B-C-P students learned and used reading teaching techniques, and daily spent thirty minutes as tutors. From this experience they improved their own reading skills, developed patience and discovered the joys and problems of being teachers.

TEACHING AND LEARNING — that's what school is all about. At B-C-P, class structures and teaching methods vary. Lecture and note-taking, inquiry, experimentation, group study and research, listening, thinking, memorizing, relating, questioning — these may all be a part of a typical day. The following pages picture the persons who plan, direct, and implement the teaching.

CLASS SONG (SUNG TO THE TUNE OF YOU LIGHT UP MY LIFE)

The time has come
For us to be leaving
BCP High School
Our Alma Mater.

Fond Memories
We'll keep deep inside us;
Deep in our hearts
You'll always remain.

The Class of 1980
Bids its farewell
To BCP
You'll always be dear,
And ever near
To us.

We will be true
But now we are blue.
We bid you a fond adieu.

Dois Henry playing her cello. She enjoys playing her cello so much that she wrote an essay about it . . .!

My Feelings for Playing the Cello!

I really don't know what made me want to play the cello, but it is really fun. I like the sound of the cello as I play it. When I do play it, I feel what I am playing. What I like best about the cello is that when I am mad about something, I can always cheer myself up by playing the cello. Sometimes my day might not go right and bad things just happen to me, but once I get into 5th period (orchestra) and start playing the cello, all my troubles fade and I am happy!!!

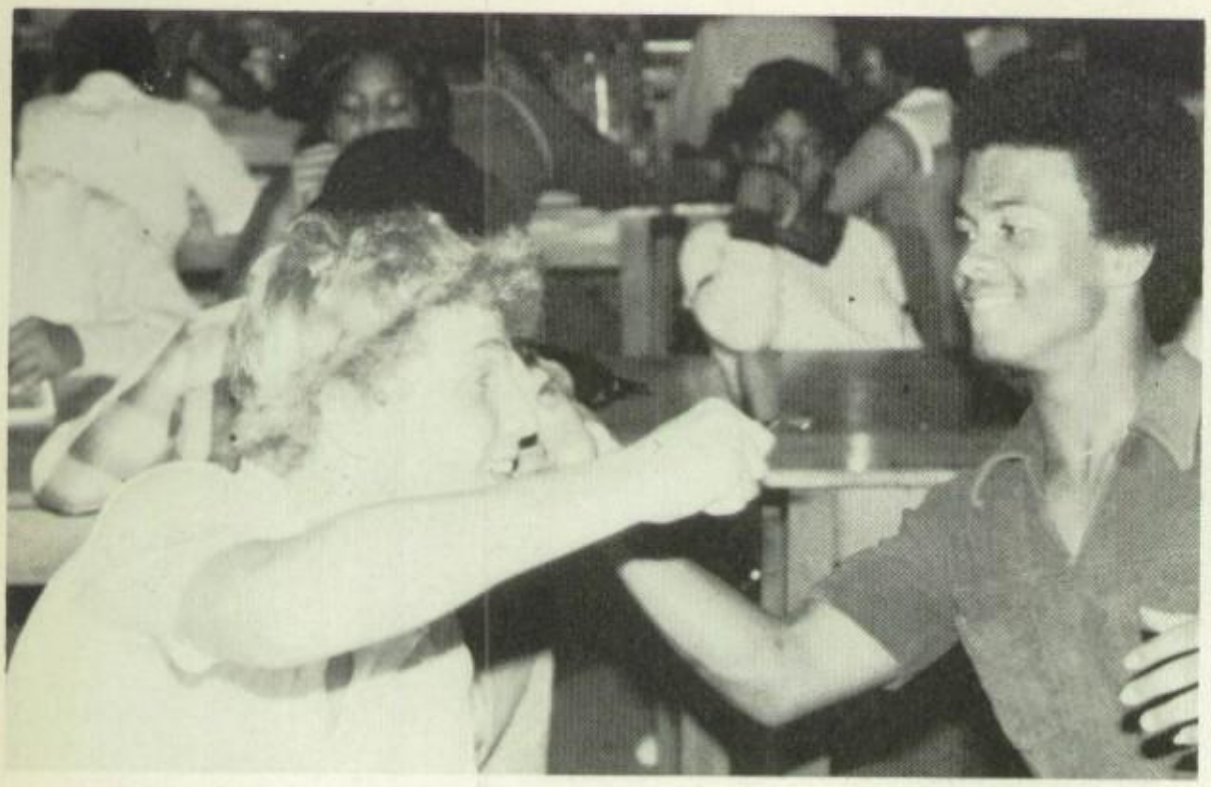
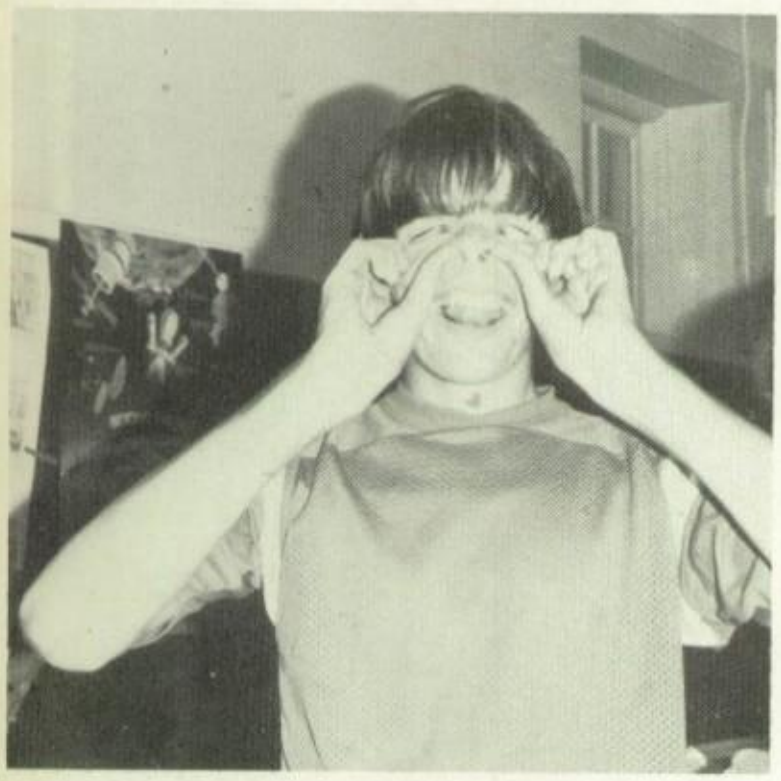
SOPHOMORES!!!



Let's trade! A pea for a french fry . . .

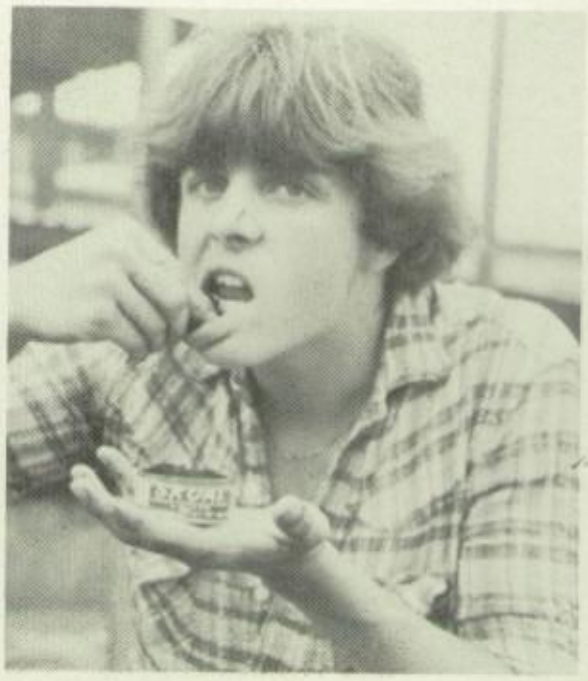


Some of us are blessed with good looks . . . then again . . . some of us aren't!

Sophomores always showed their spirit during the pep rallies.

Everyone has their strange days, but for N. Lee, W. Tucker, and E. Washington, it's everyday.

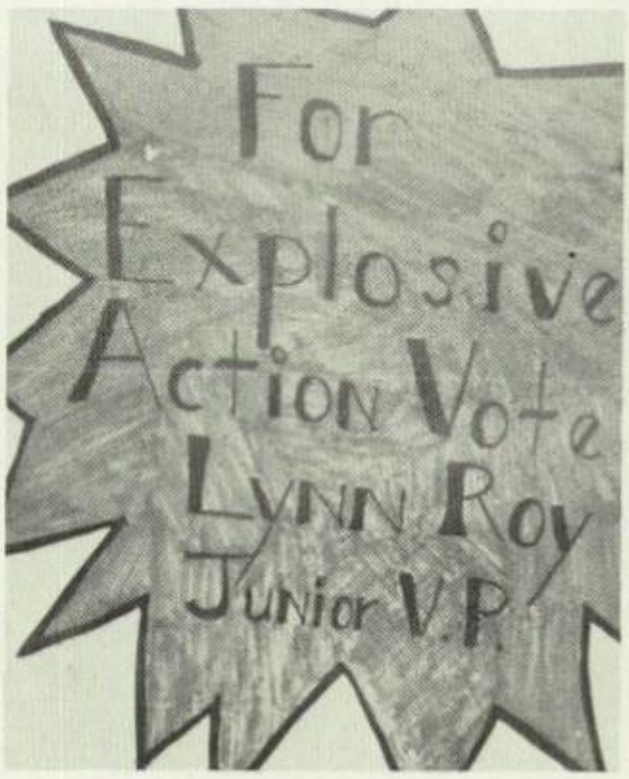
Lunch time is always a time for sharing, according to the sophomores, even a hug.



Aaron Bryan catches a "dip" during the Spring picnic.

HEY THE SOPHOMORES ARE HERE! CLASS 82

J. Lopez, Mr. Cotton, P. Phelix, and D. Peinstra get ready to be bombed by water balloons in the sophomore booth at the spring picnic.



Sophomores campaign for upcoming class officer elections with some exploding posters.

HTCNISY . . . HEY I know that I am not graphic material.

Lunchtime is always the favorite time of the school day for the sophomores.

You honestly believe I'm really planning on dissecting this worm? You're absolutely right! I am!

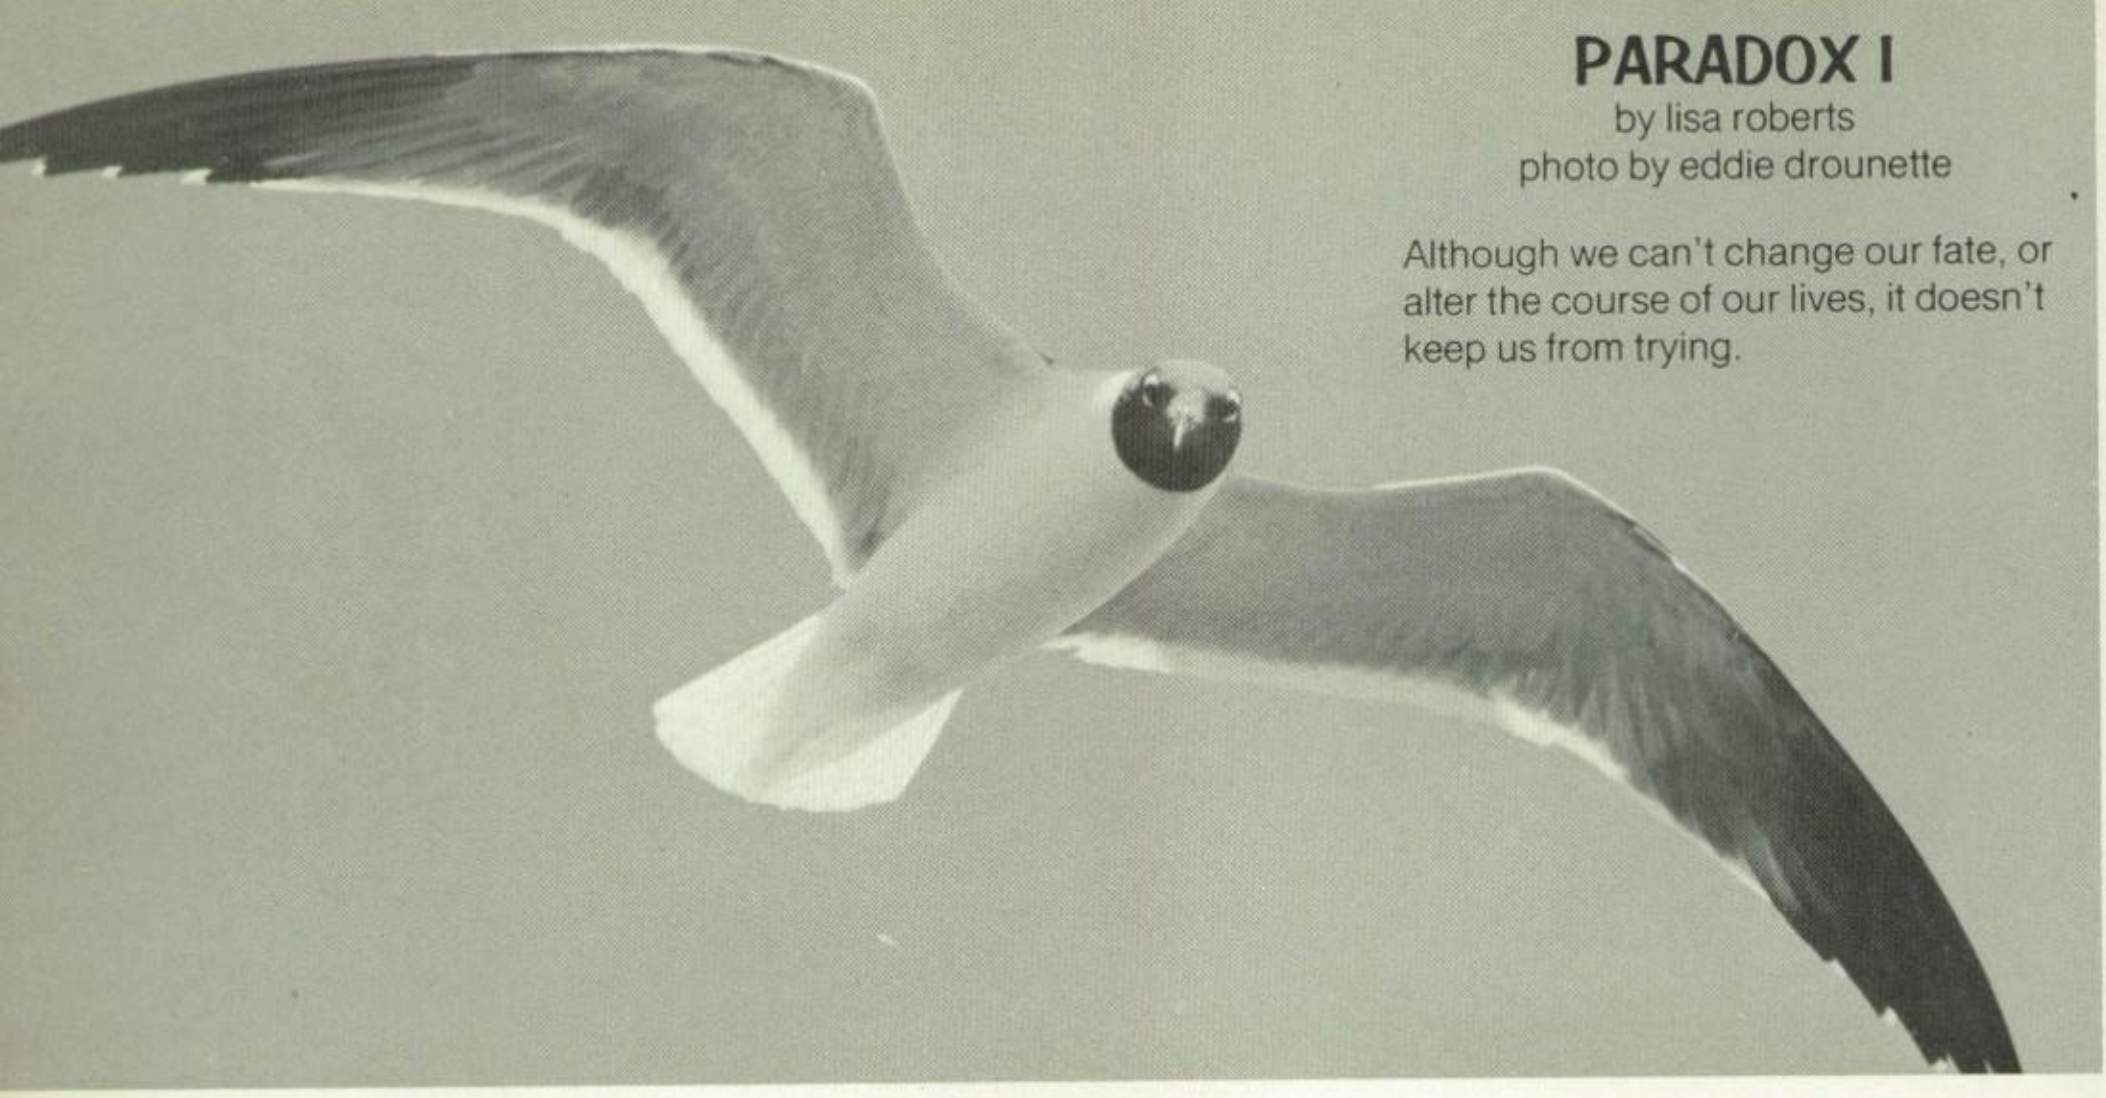
BEACH

by margaret rojas

Warm breezes,
Memories seized,
Ocean waves
In my mind,
Long walks on the beach.
Seagull's cry,
The coarse dry sand,
My body tanned.
Salted air
Plays with my hair
Twisting and tangling it.
The sun burns my face,
Yet still I love this place.



PARADOX I

by lisa roberts

Although we can't change our fate, or alter the course of our lives, it doesn't keep us from trying.

PARADOX II

by lisa roberts

We want others to see us as we really are, and accept us or at least tolerate us, yet we change our lives to fit the patterns of those around us.

SUNRISE IS . . .

by stephanie bowman

Sunrise is . . .
the birth of new life that slow but sure hope of something good in this world of anxiety and strife.

It has a language of its own,
All unique and grand it hints the things to come.
Then as it came — it will silently be gone,
Yet to come again
With new hope, new life.
That's what a sunrise is . . .

ONE WAY LOVE

by lesa mitchell

Throughout this year,
I've held back the tears,
It seems I've been wrong,
But this feeling remains strong.
It seems there's nowhere to go,
So now I close my eyes,
For I've found you in my dreams.

BE A DREAMER

by lisa roberts

Every morning I wake up facing a sign that says: "Be a Dreamer" . . . and I am . . .
I dream of how life must have been with lords and ladies and all the finery surrounding them.
Of frontiersmen cutting a path across our country with only bare necessities.
I dream of rolling hills on open prairies, as far as the eye can see.
But most of all I dream of my future . . . no finery, yet beyond necessity . . . no rolling plains — just reality.
And it scares me, wondering what my life will become . . . wondering what my life will make me become . . .
Yet, each morning I awake facing that sign that says: "Be a Dreamer" . . . and I am.

THE PARTY

by lesa mitchell

The party came and went,
I should have caught the hint,
People just can't entertain themselves anymore.

Some took the spotlight,
Others welted and weeped,
Oh, where is Mr. Goodtime,
Has he fallen asleep?

The party's over now,
But the fire still remains lit,
For those of us who refuse to forget . . .
the good times.

MUSIC

by ories holmes

All music is what awakes within us when we are reminded by the instruments;
It is not the violins nor the clarinets
It is not the beating of the drums not the score of the baritone singing his sweet romanza;
Nor that of the men's chorus, nor that of the women's chorus . . . it is nearer yet farther than they.

TOLD SECRET

by margaret rojas

Whisper,
Faintly heard
A laugh of amusement.
Breaking of a promise and telling,
Passing it on.
Chuckles fill the air,
Fingers pointing at you,
A feeling of warmth on your face.

DADDY'S SONG

by lori bledsoe

Your hand is like an old oak tree's branches . . . strong, rough, and tanned.

And I am the little bird that lands there,
You hold me up and make me strong again.

THE DANCE

by margaret rojas

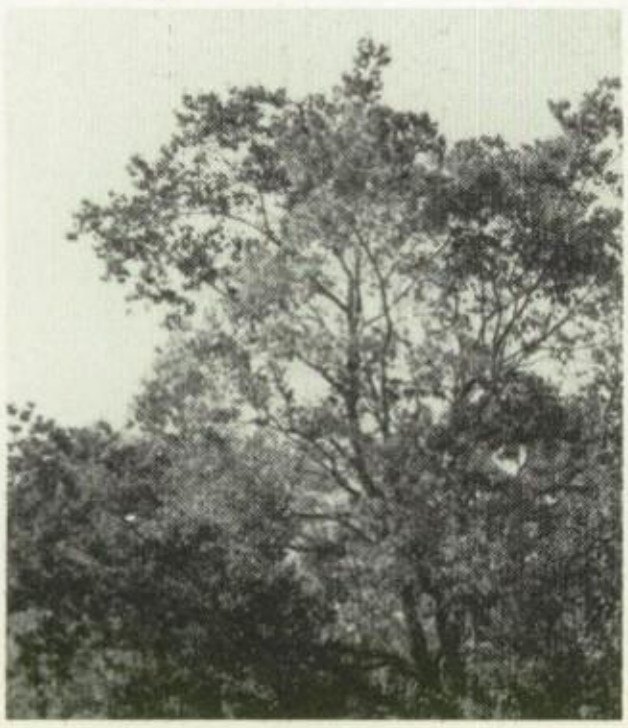
I'm sitting here in this corner wanting to dance,
To move and prance
To the beat
That all the other feet
Are enjoying.
I'm not asked to join the fun,
Girls giggle at me,
Boys don't look my way,
I'm left behind.
They don't want to be bothered with me.
Please! Can't you see,
"I can dance!"
even alone.



AUTUMN LOVE

by hallie newman

Golden leaves are falling everywhere you look,
and the golden autumn days are like a picture in a book.

I see the days that shine like gold the nights of starry blue then reminisce the time we've shared and love from me to you.

NAVAL SCIENCE

These trophies were won by Perry Celestine (right) for being the best drill team commander in the 8th Naval District of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma. He won these trophies at the 8th Naval District Skills meet in Irving, Texas.

The 1979-80 Cadet Staff was as follows: Standing: Brian Scott, Clarence Ledet, Stephanie Citizen, Mike Tywater, Charlotte Chavis, Joseph Ledet, Chris Hayes. Kneeling: Perry Celestine and Bret Orr.

As the Naval Science Unit ends its fifth year at B-C-P, if we look back we find that it has been our most successful yet. Many things were done in the community; we helped Goodwill, and MD, and the March of Dimes again. Both Drill Teams, the Orienteering, the Color Guard, the Rifle, and the First Aid teams have had the best teams ever. Next year's recruitment appears to be the biggest yet, and we're looking for the next year to be even bigger. Last year we became the best unit in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. With your help this year we were second in our district.

PRESENTING THE 79-80

COUGAR PAGEANT

The Cougar Pageant is an annual production presented by the Beaumont Charlton Pollard Gold Dusters. The Gold Dusters traditionally put more time and money into the show than is made in just one performance. The pageant was held at 7:30 February 21 in the school auditorium. The themes for the routines ranged from "Dr. Pepper" to "Twelfth Street Rag," "Cotton-eyed Joe" and Disco's "Born To Be Alive."

Evie Lewis and Michael Barnes seem to be wrapped up in the spirit of Twirp.

Twirp, the time for the sexes to change their roles so that women take the initiative, was Feb. 11-16.

Cougar Country marriages, all you can eat spaghetti dinners and roller skating along with an ice cream sundae party at Farrell's were some of the activities that marked BCP's Twirp Week.

Robby Beavers was crowned Twirp King Feb. 16, at the dance where his court was introduced. Members of the court were: Isaac Wilridge, Grayland Noah, and Albert Sledge, seniors: Darryl Cotton, Herman Fontenot, and Rufus Bell, juniors.

Others were Darren Matthews, Kenneth Coleman, and Troy Portley, sophomores; Bertrand Washington, Joe Landry, and Chris Adams, freshmen.

Despite the rain, students and faculty enjoyed the spring picnic on May 16th. A few of the activities were as follows: a tug-of-war was sponsored by the junior class, water balloon throwing was sponsored by the sophomore class, and, of course, frisbee throwing.

The FHA sold tacos and corn dogs; the Cougar Connection staff sold soft drinks, newspapers and stuffed animals. Barbecue hamburgers were made by the Key Club, Frito pies by the band students, hot dogs by Tutorial Reading students and ice cream, popsicles and fudgesickles were available from the VOE students.

Barbecue links were also on the meno, boudain was sold by the choir, the freshman class sold snow cones and the drill team prepared nachos.

Mexican food was sold by the PTA and the NJROTC sold french fries and pickles.
